Dear Sir,

In your letter of November, you inquired as to how our truck caught fire and burnt up.

This fire was caused by a ruptured hydraulic line spraying hot oil on the exhaust of the truck. This truck was loaded with paper mill waste, which consisted mostly of dust. This material became explosive and literally had an explosion where the whole center section of the truck became engulfed in flames. Most of the unit was saved due to the quick action of our driver and fire department . Damage to this unit was around $3600.00 estimate given by Insurance Company officials.

Yours truly,
Lehrer Trucking, Inc
